HEAVY FIGHTING ANNOUNCED ALL ALONG THE BATTLE LINE YESTERDAY AND TODAY.

NO DETAILS OF BATTLE

War Censors Careful To Permit No Word of German Victory To Pass Through Their Hands.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, August 26.—German forces believed to have been repulsed at the French frontier yesterday, Tuesday. The official statement today, however, was given out by the French government as follows: "It is officially announced that on August 25th the French on their frontiers were attacked in force by the Germans. The attack was repulsed and the enemy retired all along the line."
A dispatch from Antwerp sets forth that all German troops are believed to have left Brussels and that the Belgians expect to recapture the city immediately. This news lacks confirmation from an official source.
Another Raid.
A dispatch to the Reuters Telegram from its Antwerp correspondent says that another raid on the city by a Zeppelin airship was attempted last night. The effective measure taken by the Belgian military authorities, the correspondent continues, caused the German airship to retire.
Held Ground.
A dispatch from Ghent, says: "A violent combat raged at Tournai on Monday, the cannons lasting from four o'clock in the afternoon until the next morning. Workmen relate that the Germans were driven back and that the French flag was flying at Oor in East Flanders."
Claim Advances.
A Havas agency dispatch from Paris says: "The situation in the Vosges is unchanged. The battle continues in the region of Lunville, and the French troops are making progress."
On the Luxembourg frontier and in the district of the Sambre river, several unimportant engagements have occurred. The situation in the northern districts give no cause for anxiety.
Belgians Advanced.
A dispatch from Antwerp to the Exchange Telegraph company says that the Belgian operations beyond Malines were continued throughout last night. The Belgian forces succeeded in destroying defensive works constructed by the Germans.
War Office Silent.
The French war office was silent this morning. No official announcement has been issued.
Unofficial military opinion is that the fighting along the French Belgium frontier continues. Quiet confidence exists in Paris that the allies will hold off the German attack and take the offensive when the proper time arrives.
Made Attack.
Washington, August 26.—The French embassy today received the following dispatch from its foreign office dated yesterday: "The movement begun yesterday by the commander in chief has been followed all day with the greatest methods, and the enemy is unable to stop it. It is confirmed that the army corps of the Prussian guards was much exhausted."

Fighting in Lorraine.
London, August 26, 7:30.—A telegram to the Exchange Telegraph company from London says that the French war office has issued the following communication: "In Lorraine the allied armies have taken up a combined offensive movement. August 26, the Paris correspondent of Reuters Telegram company says that a raid of a German cavalry division in French territory is reported by the Petit Parisien, which states that when the Germans arrived at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, they encountered a regiment of French artillery which practically annihilated them.
British Bravery.
Referring to the fighting near Mons, the paper says: "The British bore the brunt of six furious attacks. Wounded British soldiers declare that the allies raised a veritable hecatomb of German corpses near Mons."

ANTWERP BOMBARDED

Twenty-Six Reported Killed as Result of Aerial Attack—Airsighters Place in Warfare Established.
London, Aug. 26.—The bomb dropping exploits of the Zeppelin airships at Antwerp promises to be a matter of widest international consideration.
Accounts vary as to the amount of damage done by the aerial fighters. One account says that 26 lives were lost, although others say that only twelve bodies have been recovered so far from the ruins of the wrecked houses.
A dispatch which is regarded as semi-official states that 900 houses were slightly damaged and sixty houses nearly destroyed.
"For the first time in history, a great civilized community has been bombed from the sky in the dead of night," Count Zeppelin, whom the German emperor called the greatest exploit of his life, he has thrown bombs on hospitals where the Belgians were attending the Germans who were wounded. He has staggered humanity. On August 5, the German commander warned General Leman at Liege that if the forts did not surrender the Zeppelins would move against Belgium.
The Germans have been as good as their word. We have explored every one of ten devastated streets and have found portions of ten bombs. The numbers of bombs are unknown. It is stated that all the bombs were aimed at public buildings, such as the military barracks and royal palace. The populace is in alarm.

OCEAN BOATS CRASH OFF SEATTLE TODAY;

ONE SINKS AT ONCE

Steamer, Alaska Bound, Ramm'd by Canadian Pacific Company Liner—Some of Crew and Passengers Saved.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Seattle, Wash., Aug. 26.—The Pacific Alaska navigation steamer Admiral Sampson was sunk this morning at Point No-Point, twenty miles from Seattle, by the Canadian Pacific liner Princess Victoria. The Princess Victoria, reporting the accident, said that she was proceeding to Seattle with most of the passengers and crew of the Admiral Sampson. The Admiral Sampson was bound from Seattle to Alaska. She had fifty-six passengers and crew of sixty-five. The collision took place at six-thirty. The Admiral Watson, bound from San Francisco, was near the scene of the accident at the time. The air was heavy with smoke and fog and it was supposed this caused the vessels to collide. The Princess Victoria was bound from Victoria to Seattle. She makes no mention of damage to herself in her brief report to her owners. If the boat were in the regular channel the Admiral Sampson must have gone down in deep water and may be a total loss. It is inferred from the Princess' message that there was some loss of life. The Admiral Sampson sailed last night for Alaska. She was a steel steamer of 2,282 gross tonnage. It was learned that ten lives were lost when the Admiral Sampson sank. Eight of the lost were members of the crew and two were passengers. When the collision took place the oil tank exploded and G. Byrnes, a passenger was covered with flames. He was rescued alive and died just as the Princess Victoria arrived at Seattle. The name of the other last passenger is not yet obtainable. Captain Z. S. Moore could have saved himself, but he decided to go down with the ship and did so.

BUT SLIGHT RAISE IN GROCERY PRICES

Head of National Wholesale Grocers' Body Says Today Advance Is But One Cent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, August 26.—Domestic groceries have advanced in price only a little more than one cent per bushel since the war began, according to a statement made today by Oscar B. McGlasson, president of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, in an address before the Chicago Association of Commerce.
Mr. McGlasson said he had prepared a statement for the department of justice at Washington covering 103 items of domestic groceries, including sugar and flour which have been sold at a profit of 100 per cent since the war began. In July, 1913, the sugar cost $12.74. If he bought the same goods July, 1914, according to the speaker, he would have paid $230.13, an increase of $1.87.
On August 26, at the beginning of the war, he said the same groceries would have cost the retailer $230.74, and on August 26, after three weeks of conflict, $233.96.

MAKES PROTEST ON ATTACK BY AIRSHIP

Belgian Minister at Washington Remonstrates Against Attack of Zeppelin Airship On Antwerp.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Aug. 26.—E. Haventh, the Belgian minister, presented the protest at the state department today against what he termed a "war against women and children," the Zeppelin airship attack on Antwerp. Ten persons were killed the minister states, four of them women. Eight people were injured. Secretary Bryan was very reticent in discussing the attitude of the United States toward such protests and intimated that the state department could take no action.
Reported activity of Brand Whitlock, the American minister in officially protesting to Germany, was denied by Secretary Bryan.
The text of the Belgian minister's protest was contained in the following cablegram received by him from the Belgian minister of foreign affairs, dated at Antwerp, August 25: "During the night of the 24th to 25th a dirigible Zeppelin has flown over the city of Antwerp and has thrown eight bombs of a great exploding strength. According to an investigation conducted by the judicial court, there have been ten killed, all harmless civilians, among them four women.
"Eight have been injured, of whom several mortally. One bomb exploded over the palace in which the Queen and the royal children were living. This action is a violation of article 26 of the fourth convention of the Hague."

GERMANS RETREAT AS CZAR'S MEN ADVANCE

RUSSIAN VICTORIES IN EAST PRUSSIA ARE MOST DECISIVE SAYS BRITISH REPORT.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Aug. 26.—The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent says that the Germans who retreated by forced marches after their defeat by the Russians at Gumbinnen, are assembling a part of their forces at Königsberg. The German fortified position on the River Angerap was abandoned without fighting. The roads beyond Königsberg are strewn with cartridges, knapsacks and equipment cast aside in the heavy flight of the German troops, the correspondent says.
"North of Niburg Sunday and Monday there was stubborn fighting in which the Russians were again victorious, largely through their use of machine guns. The enemy here had assembled the entire twentieth army corps in a fortified position. Pits, barbed wire and grenades were used. The Russians captured many guns, machine guns, caissons and prisoners."
Meanwhile the Vilna army was driving the German army back toward Danzig. The question now is whether the German forces can escape and how long the Russians will take in occupying the territory east of the River Vistula. They will find a strong German defense. It is reported that the Russians on Monday reached Marienburg, only twenty-five miles from Danzig.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Aug. 26, 3:15 p. m.—That the Germans are in almost utter ignorance of any news from the outside world, even of important domestic happenings is emphasized by a copy of the Berlin Tageblatt, dated August 22, which arrived here today by way of Holland.
The Tageblatt contains a "rumor" of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's death, but the paper declares that it is unable to confirm it.
The escape of the German cruiser Goeben and Breslau from Messina is announced, but the people of the German capital still believe that the ships are ready for action in the Mediterranean. GERMANS HAD ADVANTAGE

The advantages of number and position. It was a clear case of the best man winning. The Russians were the best.

The Russian losses include representatives of all the noblest families in the empire, the Russian horse guards at Gumbinnen during the recent fighting in which the Russians were victorious. It says: "The Germans held a position in a small ravine from which they were pouring a murderous fire on the Russian troops. Cavalry was ordered to silence the guns. The first squadron rode straight at the battery, which fired a volley, moved down the Russian rank and fruitfully annihilated the squadron. The second squadron followed fast and would have met the same fate, except that the third squadron rushed on the flank, shattered the enemy and routed the whole German force."
The Germans ran like rabbits discarded their helmets, and clothing in their haste to escape the avenging Russian horsemen.
"One squadron of Nizhni Novgorod, who all are famous swordsmen, charged down the Russian ranks without receiving a scratch in return."
Advance Continues.

SEWER BEING BUILT UNDER MAIN STREET

Extension of Oakland Avenue Street Cement Sewer Will Be Completed Shortly.

Construction work has been completed on a portion of the extension of the Oakland avenue sewer across Main street to connect with the eighteen inch tile to the river. From the manhole to the intersection of the two streets, the three foot cement sewer has been laid at a gradual angle across the street and at present the city workmen have completed the sewer to the car tracks.

Considerable skill has been required in building the sewer, and extension under the car tracks and past the original manhole on the west side of Main street. The turn was made at such an angle as to prevent any clogging which is expected that a large amount of the third ward drainage water will be carried to the river by means of the new sewer.

Over ten blocks of curb and gutter improvement in the city will be drained by the new sewer. Street improvement is being planned by the city commission on these highways. At the intersection of the Oakland avenue and Forest Park boulevard the cross walk has been raised to conform with the grade of the street and the block improved in other ways. On Jackson and Garfield streets city is constructing curb and gutter work around the small park space and the dividing line for the water is curved and graded. At Wisconsin street a badly needed curb and gutter has been ordered by which it is hoped that much of the drainage problem of this district will be remedied, as the water will be prevented from running into the gully and washing out the embankments.

On Linn street Street Commissioner P. Goodman has a force of city workmen employed in grading the street and repairing the cross walks to conform with the street level. On South Franklin street will be graded and repaired. It is expected the work on Linn street will require the attention of the workmen for the remainder of the week, after which the work will be started on Franklin street.

HOLD EXAMINATION FOR TWO ITALIANS

Men Suspected of Freight Car Robberies in Municipal Court Today.

Testimony was taken in the municipal court this morning in the examination of Antonio Bove and Dominico Antino, the two Italians arrested by Detective H. L. Wilson for the repeated robberies of freight cars on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad. District Attorney Dunwiddie, appearing for the state, at the opening of the trial petitioned that the warrant be amended to charge the two Italians with receiving stolen property. The original warrants alleged that Antonio and Bove stole nearly sixty dollars worth of merchandise from the cars on August 15th during the night time. The shoes, sweaters, cigars and cooking utensils alleged to have been stolen by the section gang and received by Bove and Antino were offered in evidence by Attorney Dunwiddie. The examination continued during the afternoon and Judge Maxfield will not be able to give his decision until a late hour today. The proceedings held today are to determine if there are grounds on which the two Italians will be held for trial.

VICTIM OF TRAIN FOUND AT MONROE

Henry Lentz of Milwaukee Meets Death and Janesville Man Is Thought to Have Been Companion.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad section men at Monroe yesterday discovered the badly mutilated and dead body of a man on the railway right-of-way. Marks on the body showed that the victim had been dragged for a great distance. He was later identified as Henry Lentz, a well driller employed at the Borden plant at Monroe. Lentz's home is in Milwaukee and last night Monroe authorities were holding the remains for a brother who had been reached by telegraph.

According to the story told by a man whom the Monroe police think is from this city, Lentz and the Janesville man spent Sunday fishing at Brownstown. The two were beating their way back on a box car. When Monroe was reached the man thought to be from this city reported to loungers at the depot that his companion was missing but as the former was in a bad state of intoxication nothing was thought of the matter until the body was discovered by the section crew yesterday afternoon. The man said that they were on the car and that Lentz got up to light a cigarette and fell and that was the last seen of him. The partner came on to Janesville.

A westbound passenger train passed over the body and neither cabman noticed the body.

Early Days of Cigarmaking. At one time in the early history of this country cigarmaking was an important industry in Germany and large quantities of German made cigars came to the United States. The first separate tabulation of cigar imports was in 1804, and in that year 4,000,000 were brought into the United States, nearly all of them coming from the West Indies.

CARDINALS TO PLAY ROCKFORD ON SUNDAY

Crandon to Hurl Against Strong Forest City Nine at Association Park Diamond.
Sunday afternoon the trenches of the Janesville Cardinals will be invaded by the Rockford City team in an attempt to stop the winning streak of the Janesville team. The Rockford nine reported to have a well equipped division of ball players with a heavy artillery.
Crandon and Hall will be Captain Porter's hopes of stopping the Rockford nine and the second line of defense will be the Cardinal infield. The batting for the visitors is given as being Maragl and Leadau.

Sport Snap Shots

There are a number of things in our national diversion that puzzle and perplex its devotees, but chief among them is: Why does a catcher never miss a meal? This has long been known to be the case and never has a satisfactory explanation been offered to the public. Baseball experts and writers who are familiar with the habits of the catching genus declare that when the team is on the road the backstops are always the first to reach the dining parlor. Ask any manager and he'll tell you that it's true. The catchers are up a half hour early every morning that they may have the first chance at the bill of fare. They hang about lunch counters, restaurants and such places and are always loath to leave them. It requires the greatest persuasion to get them up and away from the table even after they have something about catching the fast ones right off the bat that makes a man like to eat.

Larry McLean, the New York catcher, is something of a comedian. There is a humorous streak ever and anon. And he generally moves those about to laughter. In a game not long ago, however, he got funny and a real witty fan made a remark that all could hear and that quite confused the comical Mr. McLean. A fast foul tip had caught Larry on the mask. Taking it off, he rubbed his head to ease the pain. Then he reached down and with a hand full of sand massaged the injured spot. Right there was where the witty fan came in with his "What's the matter, Larry," he shouted, giggling at his own bon mot, "rubbing in a little more concrete."

The Central league is going to do with five teams for the rest of the season. Springfield, dragging along a hopeless and despairing last, finally agreed to quit. The players that composed the team will be wished on the other teams, and it is hoped that some justice will be shown here and that no one team will have to take any more of them than any other.

Chief Meyers, the Indian catcher with the Giants is declared by many to be headed in the general direction of the slide. Meyers has not shown that speed and pep behind the bat that formerly he has.
This is scarcely grounds for declaring that he is ready for the shelf by any means. Too many players have their off seasons.

Eddie Miller, Frisco bantamweight, now coming into prominence on the coast, should achieve fame in the ring if environment has anything to do with it. He was born and raised in a neighborhood in San Francisco known as "South of the Slot," where many other fighters of repute first had their boyhood fights. Frankie Neil, Dick Hyland, Eddie Hanlon, Jimmy Britt, Joe Thomas, Abe At-tell and Willie Ritchie were all born and raised in that same community.

If John McGraw can't tell the umpires what he thinks on the field he'll get back at them some other way. Recently he appeared in a prize fight with some two columns of abuse heaped on what he would call the boneheads of every umpire with whom he comes in touch. All but Bill Klem. For some reason or other he spared Bill Klem. As to the rest, however, he discussed them pro and con and let each and every one know just where he might embark.

A season or two ago the Chicago Cubs were used for $20,000 by a spectator who claimed that he had been horribly crushed in the crowds at the gate. It is some relief to Cub owners to know this summer that no one will sue them on that score.

Jack Miller of the Cardinals started in the game as a pitcher. Wearying of this he took to the outfield, mostly because he was quite able with the bat. After playing the outfield a while he joined the infield and has stayed there most of the while since. However, while with the Cards he has played three different positions.

CROOKED SCREW DRIVER

How May Be Driven or Drawn Without Loss of Time or Energy.

A screw-driver of new construction has a loose handle and a crooked shank, entirely different in appearance from the typical implement in general use at the present time. By its use it is claimed that a screw may be driven or drawn in much less time and with less effort, for the reason that much time and energy is lost in the average tool of the kind in its sliding frequently from the notch on the head of the screw.

NEW SCREW-DRIVER.

How the handle of the new implement fits into the palm of the hand and the pressure exerted maintains the contact of the end of the driver with the head of the screw. Then, keeping the bent portion of the shank between fingers a turn is given to the wrist and the screw is sent home with no lost motions or wasted energy.

THRASH OUT DETAILS AT MADISON HEARING

TECHNICAL POINTS CONSIDERED IN CONNECTION WITH WATER WORKS CASE.

EXPECT FINDING SOON

City Will Take Possession of Plant Within a Few Weeks According to Officials.

Janeville will be in possession of the plant of the Janesville Water Company within a few weeks, according to the opinion of city officials who are attending the hearing which is being held this week before the state railroad commission at Madison. Mayor Fathers and City Attorney Dougherty returned to Madison today, after spending all day yesterday at the capital and will probably be engaged with this matter for the remainder of the week. Councilmen Cummings and Goodman were also present at the session on Tuesday.

When the commission is ready to make its findings, which should be within three weeks, it will notify the city to issue bonds and to provide the funds required. It then files its certificates and with the filing of the certificates under the law goes to the city attorney, pay, the city or the company, may appeal from the award but the law vests the possession of the plant in the city immediately upon the filing of the certificate. Oshkosh is still litigating over the amount of the award, but the municipality has possession of the plant.

Many technical points are being presented to the commission by its engineers and every detail is being scrutinized with the utmost care by the attorneys for the company. Mr. Jeffries and O. A. Oestreich. Any disputed item will be the subject of further testimony.

The work yesterday covered the real estate and building, including the pumping station and all other structures, exclusive of wells, reservoirs and standpipes. Mr. Miller, one of the engineers, commenced his testimony covering the distribution system and continued to the same today. A vast amount of detail investigation is necessary in a proceeding of this character, especially when most of the ground is sharply contested, and the hearing will be continued daily until every item comprising the plant is covered. Mr. Roemer, chairman of the commission, who is presiding at the hearing, stated today that the findings would be completed within two weeks after the case closed. He made a statement in last night's issue of the Gazette that the valuation would not be announced for several months.

The testimony which is now being taken is being taken in order to be charged for the service. Mr. Roemer stated to local officials on Tuesday that the new rates would be made effective as early as possible. The absolute disposition of all matters having to do with the water works controversy rests with the railroad commission and will be carried to a conclusion, city officials affirm, just as fast as possible. The commission is a tremendous matter to perform and is at present working on the Racine water works case, which has been in litigation for a year longer than the Janesville controversy. The position of the "public utility law" have been the subject of vigorous attack during the last two years.

The penalty on conviction for this offense is a fine from ten to one hundred dollars and each day's continuance of such violations shall constitute a separate offense."

TRANSFORMER BREAKS GIVES MUCH TROUBLE

Electrical Instruments Gives Out and Extra Voltage on Wires Causes Fire.

The breaking down of a third ward electric transformer this morning, caused considerable trouble to users of electricity along Milton avenue and in that vicinity. The break permitted 2,300 extra volts on the wires and in several residences slight damage was done. The fire department was called to the residence of George Rudersdorf, 516 Milton avenue, about 9:30 o'clock. The home of Dr. George Fox also experienced the heavy voltage and the department made the run here at 12:30.

Chief Klein was of the opinion after the Rudersdorf alarm that either a transformer had broken or the fire was caused by a short circuit. It was later determined after investigation that the transformer was the cause of the damages.

BARBER AT MILTON COMMITTS SUICIDE; VILLAGE SHOCKED

O. E. Orcutt Failed to Return to Work Yesterday Noon—Shooting Is a Mystery.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, Aug. 26.—The village was shocked this morning by the announcement that O. E. Orcutt had committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. After eating his dinner yesterday he told his wife that he was going to take a walk before returning to his barber shop and as he did not return home at the supper hour, or at closing time, a search was started. His body was found in W. H. Gray's woods on High street this morning by parties who were making the search.

During the night a shot was heard by several persons, but no one dreamed that it was the work of a suicide. No valid reason can be assigned for his act as he was in good spirits and health and worked in his shop yesterday forenoon. He has never given evidence of suicidal intent and must have been temporarily insane at the time.

Mr. Orcutt had been a resident here for many years and conducted a barber shop. He was always jolly and no one could imagine that he would ever contemplate suicide. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge had served on the village council and enjoyed the respect and esteem of the community. He leaves a widow.

MADISON WILL HOLD INDIAN CONVENTION

Society of American Redskins Will Meet at Capitol City October 6th to 11th.

Madison, Aug. 26.—In acceptance of an invitation extended to it by the society of American Indians, the largest organization of native Americans in the United States, will hold its annual conference at Madison, on October 6th to 11th. This organization is the recognized champion of Indian rights and education. Its headquarters office is at Washington, D. C. Dr. Sherman Colledge, an Arapahoe Indian, is its president. W. J. Kershaw, a prominent lawyer of Menominee, is its vice president, and Dr. Arthur C. Parker, its secretary and treasurer. One hundred delegates representing numerous Indian tribes will be present and participate in the conference. Many other Indian members and white patrons of the society will attend. Among those who will probably deliver addresses during the sessions are Horace H. Barker, register of the United States treasury, Chicago; Dr. Carlos Montezuma, Apache, Rev. Henry Roe Cloud, Winnebago, Gen. R. E. Hulse, founder of the Indian school system, Rev. Philip Gordon, Chippewa, Dennison Wheelock, Oneida, Stephen Jones, Indian Y. M. C. A. secretary and Matthew K. Smith, an officer of the Indian Rights association.

The opening meeting of the conference will be held in the assembly chamber where the members of the association will be welcomed by the governor and mayor of the city.

On the following day they will be taken on an automobile pilgrimage to the parks and pleasure drives and other points of historical, archeological and scenic interest about the city. The local members of the Wisconsin Archeological society will at this time unveil a bronze tablet on a group representing the city's past.

In one of the city parks, the business sessions of the conference will be held in one of the university buildings. Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University, will here address the delegates.

One of the very interesting features of the Madison gathering will be a large public meeting at which an interesting program of Indian addresses and music will be given. On Sunday, October 11, the final day of the conference, Indian ministers will be invited to fill the pulpits of all the local churches.

Madison will make every effort to properly entertain its distinguished guests. The university, the local historical society and citizens generally are interested in the coming of the conference to the city of the Four Lakes. Last year's conference was held in Dargen where the society was royally received.

GERMANS CAN'T TAKE ANTWERP, IS BELIEF; TOO WELL FORTIFIED

That the German army will not attempt to take Antwerp, the temporary capital of Belgium, is the belief of military men. The city is strongly fortified, and is a dozen times better prepared to check the German advances than was Liege. Besides, Antwerp is not on the road to France from Germany. The Germans are not attempting to conquer Belgium, but to get into France as quickly as possible.

Our photo gives a view looking north along the River Scheldt, where shipping once made Antwerp Europe's richest commercial port.

UNCLE SAM IS BIG FIGURE AT WAR TIME

Peace is Being Maintained at Home and Good Protection Tendered Americans Abroad.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—In these uncertain days Uncle Sam is about the only great world figure who is keeping his head. Uncle Sam today is standing not only for peace at home but he is doing everything he can to keep the 100,000 Americans scattered throughout the European war zone content and safe.

As soon as he saw the first war clouds coming across Europe he established in the state department a bureau of information and immediately notified his 235 diplomatic and consular representatives in the warring countries to look out for Americans.

In Washington the headquarters were established. A large room on the first floor of the department used by the consul bureau was designated the information office. A half dozen officials of the consular service were designated to act as clerks and the latch string was hung out, the country was notified and since then the bureau has been "swamped."

First it undertook to inform relatives or friends in the United States of the whereabouts and condition of their relatives or friends traveling in Europe. If a business man in Springfield had relatives in Germany, he asked the state department to cable the American consul at the station nearest the last stopping place of the tourist. This the state department did and when the reply came the business man was notified immediately.

Few hours passed, however, until the bureau discovered it would have to come to the financial relief of Americans. Telegrams poured into this country that travelers' checks of the tourists and their letters of credit would not be cashed. It became necessary for friends and relatives in this country to come to their assistance and semi-official banking business was started.

The first day $25,000 was received and forwarded to European points. The second day checks ranging from $100 to $5,000 and $10,000 were deposited to be forwarded abroad.

In this way the information bureau not only looked after the inquiries from persons here in the United States but it sought to put ready money in the hands of stranded tourists.

To illustrate just how this is done let me cite an instance of a New Yorker who came to Washington to find out about a daughter "somewhere in France." He gave her itinerary and stated just where she had expected to be on that day. The clerk took her name and address and the information her father gave. He explained to the father that the state department had no funds to pay for telegrams and that it would cost him between nineteen and twenty-five cents a word to send the cable.

The father said he would pay any bills and deposited $3,000 with the clerk with the understanding that all except the state department expenses should be forwarded to his daughter.

By midnight of that day a message was on route to the consul near where the girl was expected to be. The consul was notified to pay the girl the money.

This incident is duplicated in scores of ways every day. Men and women in nearly cities are coming to the bureau, while those in other parts of the country are wiring their congressmen to inquire for them. On the day the bureau opened more than fifty congressmen inquired in behalf of the constituents. Practically the whole Minnesota delegation in congress called first.

A large number of Norwegians were somewhere in northern Germany en route to a convention in Norway. Friends and relatives in the northwest were concerned about their safety and the state department started an investigation as this is written it has not been concluded.

According to the state department there are the number of consular officials in the countries in the war territory are as follows:

Germany..... 53

France..... 61

Austria-Hungary..... 17

Russia..... 20

Italy..... 23

Serbia..... 3

In the same countries the United States has twenty-nine officers in the various diplomatic stations.

KEG PARTY MEMBERS GIVEN JAIL TERMS

Chief Champion Raids Vagrants' Banquet Near Croak's Brewery Yesterday Afternoon.

Chief of Police P. D. Champion demonstrated his attitude toward "Keg parties" yesterday afternoon when he and Policeman William Gower raided a company of vagrants who were surrounding a lapped keg on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad property near Croak's brewery.

While in about the seventh course of the vagrants' party, the two authorities arrived on the scene and called a halt to the festivity. Of the twenty that were in attendance at the banquet sixteen succeeded in climbing the banks, out of the grasp of the authorities. Four of the men had imbibed too freely to escape the officers and they were jailed for being drunk and disorderly.

When arraigned before Judge Maxfield in the municipal court this morning, all four pleaded guilty and received jail sentences. Henry Blunt was the first of the quartet to be called to the bar. He was given seven days of a five dollar fine. Mild Tobin of Belvidere was one of the unlucky ones to fall into the grasp of the law and it cost Tobin six dollars for four rounds of liquor. Tracer was declared he had just arrived when the officers broke up the carousal. J. P. Egger of Beloit, went to jail for seven days in default of the five dollar fine. When W. L. Brazier of Beloit was called to account he attempted to convince Judge Maxfield he should not be fined even five dollars. After an effort to show he was a victim of circumstances Tracer was fined twenty-five dollars and costs of thirty days.

Besides the four vagrants, two others were present in the "spree row" this morning and both received jail terms. Frank Grokan came to grief when he attempted to beg on Milwaukee street and he was sentenced to thirty days, not being able to pay, five dollars and costs of thirty days. George Regal, a race track follower, had attempted to reach the stables at the association grounds but for the first time in fourteen years had released his hold on the water wagon and fell with such a bump that he landed in jail. Regan was given five dollars or seven days.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Paying the Price.

With all their money and all Mrs. Brand's charm the Brands were not within the inner circle of New York society. Just what the circle is, is hard to say. Those who try to define it are generally those who know little about it, or who at least are not part of it. The circle is composed of many segments. There are times when these segments vie with others so that it is difficult to tell where the one begins and the other ends. But the boundaries are there, and, generally speaking, stated with a supply of unlimited cash. Jane's only reason to her goal was through her friend and by the means of her own personal attraction. She made the most of the latter and the bills from her modiste and milliner caused Bob many a misgiving, despite the abandon with which he made and spent his money. He liked to see his wife look as good as the best and he plunged harder and deeper so that he could gratify her every wish without the semblance of question. Economy was a word that he had banished forever and if their house had permitted it he would have urged her to attempt some of the prodigious affairs that she shared at the Brands.

Yet while Reynolds indulged and encouraged his wife he found himself often assuming a care free spirit that he did not feel. There came moments when the false glamor of his life palled and he gave way to deepest melancholy. More and more he resorted to the bracing influence of stimulants and a cessation from this practice only accentuated his morbidness.

For a long time he kept the real state of his mind from Jane and the necessity for the deception carried him farther and farther away from her. In this life of wealth and gaiety the words of Brand now came home to him with poignant sting. He was, indeed, on the outside looking in. He saw his wife, through his apostasy, mount higher to the goal of her ambition while he sank lower and lower. The metamorphosis of soul began to take on physical expression. The candor of his expression changed to cunning and craftiness and an inherent frankness of manner gave way to constraint. At the club the change became noticeable. His evenings there were not of the convivial sort as before. He sought only one form of amusement—gambling. He played heavily and lost often, but he won. His speculations in the street also went awry. Within a year from the date of his ill-gotten prosperity, Reynolds had begun paying the price. He paid heavily and alone.

His thoughts often turned to Dick and the happy hours they had spent in the little bungalow. And Jane had seemed happy, too, for the reporter's boyish nature and lovable ways had endeared him to both. Reynolds forgot all the difficulties of their life across the bay and dated every element of discontent and unrest from the time of Brand's coming. Brand's coming—the thought of it made the blood surge through his veins—he cursed the day that he had ever made the millionaire's acquaintance and the day it had been renewed; and he cursed Brand himself. What had Brand ever done or intended to do for him? He had used him as a pawn in the game of spoil! A cat's-paw to drag a chestnut from the flame, and then he had thrown him the shell. And for such little gain as was his he had suffered an incomparable loss. He was burned and seared forever. In the bitterness of these moments Reynolds' very soul was racked and torn and in his heart, at times, there was murder. He wondered what Dick knew of his actual deal with Brand. He longed sometimes to look up the reporter and bare the whole story. But confession to another would do no good now; it would not repay the municipality he had robbed and it would not renew the bond of friendship with the man he had cast aside.

When Reynolds rushed after his wife that night he stopped for Dick at the little place of cheer on the corner. He almost dragged his friend away, and while they waited for the car he told his intention. He was going from Jane to Brand, he said, and what Brand wanted of him he would do. He was done with poverty and done with principle. He was going to put his hand in the grab bag and take one draw at the game. If that was the way it was played; if that was the only way he could decently clothe his wife and give her the place she was entitled to, that was the way he would play it. He would have told Dick all then, if he would have listened. But the reporter laid a hand over his mouth and stopped him.

"Don't say any more, Bob," he had warned. "If that is the way you feel; if your mind is made up, I don't want to hear any more. I know too much now. But I can forget. Let it go at that. You know you can trust me. Only, remember this: You'll fall flat. There are some men who can't go wrong and get away with it; the wrong always gets away with them."

That was about the last word he had had from Dick. They had ridden up to the city together, but they had conversed but little and at the Battery the reporter shook his friend's hand and hurried away.

The sting of conscience and remorse began to take such a hold on Bob that he ceased to share his wife's pleasures and he found himself aggrieved and annoyed at her extravagances. The sight of her costly gowns actually irritated him, for he continued to lose heavily and his entire fortune now was less than the forty thousand dollars with which Brand had rewarded his duplicity. It was not his losses, however, that unnerved him. It was the thought that he now had nothing of his own making and that for every luxury his wife enjoyed, he and she were bound to Brand. Jane was oblivious to it, but that only aggravated the ill. He avoided her. Night after night he remained away, urging press of business while he was engaged in nothing more urgent than some game of chance, which for him had lost even the element of sociability. His sleeping hours were as troubled as his wakeful ones and pleading extreme nervousness to Jane, he advised that they occupy separate rooms.

He dreamed constantly of Dick and the bungalow and of his earlier days with Jane. And once he dreamed of something else. He awoke clutching the clothes, with beads of cold sweat starting from his brow and the picture of a horrible nightmare still before his eyes. He had dreamed that the dam had collapsed and that hundreds of persons were dead, martyrs to his crime. And while he dreamed these dreams Brand slept peacefully. One was a conscience-prodded transgressor and the other a self-satisfied progressive.

At last Bob decided on an escape. He determined to risk everything he had, house and all, in a final coup. If he won, he would go away whether Jane went or not. He could give her enough to be comfortable on if he were successful, and if he lost—well, there would, at least, be a change.

EXPECT FARMERS TO FILL THEIR SILOS

Height of Hay and Grain Brightens Prospects—Humphrey Expresses Belief.

Hay and grain are high and there is a good prospect that they are going to be higher. Farmers will do well to hold on to their hay and grain and use it to feed or fatten live stock. This is the belief of George C. Humphrey of the experiment station, the University of Wisconsin.

"Many," says Mr. Humphrey, "likely will be unable to resist the temptation to sell their crops at the high prices which are now prevailing, but I think they will do well, in most cases, to keep their hay and grain. The price of meat, I believe, is going to rise proportionately faster than the price of feed stuffs."

"Moreover, there have been droughts in some sections of the country, causing a shortage of hay and roughage feeds. In those districts there will be a result, a big demand for grain. Thus, the Wisconsin farmer if he carefully conserves his forage feeds, will be in position to profitably feed more stock. "Except for animals that are being fattened, high priced grain, of course, should be used very sparingly. The great majority of the farmers of the state will be well supplied with hay and other forage as every man who has a silo will surely fill it to the roof with silage, the real value of which very few of us scarcely realize."

Her Want Was Filled You Can Fill Yours In The Same Way

"I want a new ice-box, ours is so large; yet I hesitate in getting one as there is no reason, except that it is too large for our present location for selling the one we now have. I wish I might take a few tucks in it—think I could?" asked a prudent woman of her neighbor, as they talked the other morn.

"I doubt your ability to take a tuck in your ice-box, but if you are determined to have a new one why not advertise your old box and use the money derived from its sale towards a new one?"

"Think I could?"

"I am rather sure you could. I have used the want ad page so many times, with such satisfactory results, that I feel safe in suggesting this plan to you."

That's all! Unless you would be interested in knowing that the first speaker did sell her Armour-size ice-box; that she did purchase one that was the required size. She did not lose money either. It does pay to air grievances, of some cases, does it not? Of one thing you can be certain! It pays to advertise! Oh! it does. Try it!

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Aug. 26, 1874.—The artesian bore in the town of Janesville sold a head of corn of this down 960 feet at least, having been at 840 at 7 this morning, and the corn reached depth resolved upon may be reached today. Some idea of the length of the bore may be gained from the fact that Rev. Mr. Huntley's church to the woolen factory is about 1,000 feet.

Seventeen geese running at large have strayed themselves into the arms of the city watchmen and are now impounded, awaiting payment of the charges, almost equal to their full value. Geese never learn discretion until they are well taught.

Water Witch Engine Company will visit Jefferson tomorrow.

The Bower City Band will accompany Water Witch Engine Company to Jefferson tomorrow.

Mr. Joseph Flieger of the town of Janesville sold a head of corn of this year's growth on the exchange today. The price paid for the grain was 45 cents per bushel. The remarkable feature of the transaction is the early maturity of the crop, being nearly a month in advance of any former year.

There is a business man in the second ward who drives a cow to pasture every morning, using the sidewalk for his operations, to the great annoyance of pedestrians. "Why is this thus?" Many complain of the business.

Resisting an officer in the performance of his duty is a dangerous work for his operations, to the great annoyance of pedestrians. "Why is this thus?" Many complain of the business.

The man Read, who flourished a pistol in Milwaukee street to save himself from arrest, has been committed for trial at the next session of the circuit court.

Infection and Insect Bites Dangerous

Mosquitoes, flies and other insects which breed quickly in garbage pails, ponds of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are carriers of disease. Every time they bite you, they inject poison into your system from which some dread disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. It is antiseptic and a few drops will neutralize the infection caused by insect bites or rusty nails. Sloan's Liniment disinfects Cuts, Bruises and Sores. You cannot afford to be without it in your home. Money back if not satisfied.
